

Fetal anomalies detected at the third trimester: How to manage and counsel the parents
Chaired by Prof. Asma Khalil and Prof. Simon Meagher

Webinar Series
Wednesday 31st July

Learning Objectives:

- Understand which fetal anomalies that could be detected in the third-trimester scan.
- Demonstrate proficiency in the technique of performing a third-trimester ultrasound scan.
- Analyse the rationale and morphology of structural elements of the fetus that can be examined during the third trimester.
- Familiarise what to tell the parents and management options of fetal structural anomalies detected at the third trimester.

Time	Mins	Item	Speaker – Prefix, full name
12:00	5	Welcome and Introduction	Asma Khalil (UK) and Simon Meagher (Australia)
12:05	20	Fetal cardiac anomalies	Simon Meagher (Australia)
12:25	20	The study of abnormalities of the placenta and umbilical cord	Conrado Coutinho (Brazil)
12:45	20	Kidneys or late growth issues	Fabricio Costa (Brazil)
13:05	20	Vein of Galen, Achondroplasia, Bowel obstruction	Asma Khalil (UK)
13:25	30	Panel discussion, Q&A	All faculty
13:55	5	Feedback and close	Asma Khalil (UK) and Simon Meagher (Australia)

Please note that this is a provisional schedule subject to change.